IN WRONG PLACE.

An Amusing Incident in Building and Loan Convention.

Hoch Supporter Thought It a Hoch Convention.

STOOD IT ALL DAY.

Then He Discovered the Real Nature of Meeting.

Visitors Given Excellent Dinner by Topeka Association.

The abilities of the two local building and loan associations, the Shawnee and the Capital, in the matter of ordering a good meal were ably demonstrated Thursday night at the supper given by them at the National hotel for the Kansas League of Building and Loan associations which had just finished its annual meeting in Topeka. The session was held during the afternoon in the parlors of the National. Supper was served at 7:30 o'clock, lasting until 8. At that time the guests left for the Midwinter exposition where the performance was delayed for their arrival. If the sort of entertainment furnished the Building and Loan men were always accorded guests at Topeka gatherings the town would soon recover from the unenjoyable reputation acquired by less enjoyable gatherings of other kinds in the past. After the business of the convention had been disposed of the crowd, twenty-five in all, representing sixteen of the associations in the state, adjourned to the dining room. There a nine course supper was served in excellent style. The menu included: Sliced tomatoes, bullion, sweet-breads, roast beef, salad, squab on toast, ice cream, charlotte russe, coffee and cigars.

During the afternoon session of the association there was an amusing occurrence of which most of the members were not aware. A man from Burlington, with the "boss-buster" microphone in his system, got into the Building and Loan association meeting by mistake early in the afternoon, and, being unversed in the details of the "boss-busters," did not realize that he had gotten into the wrong place until nearly supper time. As taxes were much in discussion, and the building and loan association at Burlington and without further inquiries introduced him around. This was early in the afternoon and the meeting went ahead with its discussion of building and loan association business, taxation, interest and loan rates while the boss buster from Burlington sat back with wrinkled brow and tried to follow the proceedings.

About 5 o'clock the boss buster rose from his chair and tipped around where Brown sat. Tapping him on the shoulder he asked for his coat and hat.

"Do you have to hurry off?" inquired Mr. Brown. "No, no, better wait and take supper with us."

"No," said the buster. "I reckon I've got into the wrong corral. I thought this was going to be a Hoch meeting."

He pronounced it "Hoch" and the Kansas League of Building and Loan associations has set out to defeat itself before the next legislature. In the event of any tax legislation. With this in view, a committee has been appointed, whose work shall be to prepare and draft a bill or section of a tax bill providing for the proper classification and assessment of building and loan associations. Had the tax bill which was before the last legislature been passed, the building and loan association business would almost certainly have been driven to the wall by excessive taxation. This bill classed these associations with banks and provided for the assessment of deposits. As the assets of the building and loan associations consist almost entirely of deposits, the arrangement would have worked an absolute ruin upon them. The committee appointed for this purpose consists of A. J. Applegate, Wichita, chairman; W. T. Wilcox, Newton; C. S. Hartough, Leavenworth; Mark Maxwell, Kansas City, and C. S. Elliott.

The newly elected officers of the association are: B. Brown, Topeka, president; C. S. Hartough, Leavenworth, vice president; C. S. Elliott, Topeka, secretary; and G. S. Tunney, Kansas City, treasurer. Those who attended the meeting Thursday were: H. W. Broadbent, Judge E. L. Fischer and Mark Maxwell, Kansas City, Kan.; A. J. Applegate, Wichita; W. T. Allen, Erie; H. W. Wilcox, Newton; D. Breneman, Olathe; C. S. Hartough, Leavenworth; W. A. Jackson, Atchison; Deputy State Bank Commissioner H. L. Finley, P. H. Fowler, W. H. Eastman, C. S. Elliott, T. B. Brown, A. A. Rodger, M. Sattenger, C. W. Snyder, A. B. Poole, D. J. Greenwald, B. Barnum and C. G. Blakeley, Topeka.

PUT TRAMPS TO WORK?

Mineola's Supervisor Has Some Roads to Build.

Mineola, L. I., Jan. 22.—As usual about this time of year, the jail is well filled with tramps with whom the cold weather does not seem to agree. Out of the 55 prisoners, 40 are vagrants, and the officers are wondering how they can make use of them. It costs the county annually about $50,000 or $70,000 to keep its roads in repair, and a plan has been suggested by Supervisor Brower to put these prisoners to work on the roads, breaking stone or doing something for the county in return for their board at the jail.

In the Brooklyn penitentiary these men would be compelled to do some kind of work, but here in the jail there is nothing to be done. The tramps look upon the jail here as a "hot stop," and every year, as soon as the real cold weather sets in, they manage to find their way to the jail, and about the time their sentence expires the cold weather is over and they continue on their way.

Fuel Famine in Manila. Manila, Jan. 29.—The prohibition of coal exports by the Japanese government threatens to create a fuel famine in this city. George Hermann, the ex-inspector of constabulary, who robbed the government and fled from Misamis, Mindanao, and was subsequently captured at Bayanan, has been convicted and sentenced to thirteen years' imprisonment.

SPAR FOR PUBLIC.

Boxing Match Added to Exposition Features.

Will Take Place Tonight on the Stage.

ATTENDANCE IS LARGE

People Evidently Greatly Interested in the Show.

Some of the Things to Be Seen in the Booths.

Manager R. S. Brigham announced today a new entertainment feature which will be put on at the Midwinter exposition tonight for the first time. It will be a three round sparring exhibition by Senor and Senora Francella, both of whom are masters of the art of boxing. This event was not included in the list of acts which these muscular persons agreed to give here but they willingly made the offer of the exhibition. It will be one of great interest.

The two Francellas are promulgators of a system of physical development by which they have acquired their herculean strength. Among the accomplishments in which they are both proficient is boxing and when out of the theatrical circuit season they give lessons in this and other forms of physical culture. In tonight's exhibition there will be none of the repulsive brutality that occasionally marks an exhibit of that kind between two men. Its purpose will be to display skill and dexterity in the use of the gloves and to persons who are interested in gymnasium work of any kind the performance will be of special interest.

Throughout the past four days of the exposition the acts given by the Francellas have been among the best received. Senora Francella is one of the strongest men in the United States and his magnificent physique is a rare instance of the perfection which may be acquired by intelligent physical culture.

Bitterly cold weather seems to have no power to seriously retard the success of the Midwinter exposition, which has already become a popular event with Topeka people. The Midwinter furnishes a class of entertainment that Topeka manifestly appreciates and at prices within the reach of everyone.

Thursday night's attendance was about 3,500 while the afternoon's attendance was large. With Thursday's attendance the total for the week has been about 10,000 people. But for the fact that the weather has been extremely cold and disagreeable almost throughout the week it is reasonably certain that the total would be much larger. It is now very nearly the same as that for the corresponding days of last year. Orderly conduct and good nature has prevailed among the young people who have made up a large part of the crowds attending the exposition so far so that the management has been at no trouble to preserve order. Although the crowds attest their appreciation for the entertainment numbers given afternoon and evening by giving their undivided attention to them, they do not reward the performers with applause as they deserve. Topeka people need to learn how to be appreciative. The features put on by the Midwinter management are of unusual excellence and are not surpassed by the features of any vaudeville house in the country.

J. E. Jones, Paint Manufacturer.

The paints shown at the booth of J. E. Jones at the Midwinter exposition, and all the paints sold by this firm are now manufactured in Topeka and are shown to be in every respect fully equal to those made by the larger manufacturers of this country. The best ready mixed or ready for use paint now made here or elsewhere is a simple combination of lead and zinc thoroughly ground together in pure linseed oil. This combination, it is believed, makes the most durable paint known, not only on account of its durability but because it wholly does away with the old way of buying your material and mixing your own paint. This firm makes house paint, floor paint, barn paint, carriage paint, stains and everything used in painting.

E. P. Jordan Exhibit.

The electrical work done about the Auditorium is probably the best demonstration of the efficiency of the E. P. Jordan electrical institution. They also make an interesting display of the articles handled by them in one of the booths of the Midwinter exposition. The Jordan concern made the arrangement of the magnificent electrical display with which the exterior of the exposition hall is illuminated, as well as doing much of the wiring of the interior of the building. To do this work in a manner to avoid accident from the crossing of wires has been difficult. In the Jordan booth is shown a large line of brackets and other finishings carried by the company, which is equipped to handle all manner of electrical work. This Topeka institution has grown from a very small start, but is now equipped to handle electrical contracts of any size, and has established an excellent reputation for the efficiency of its work.

viability reputation for the efficiency of its work.

The Jensen Mfg. Co.'s Exhibit.

The booth of the Jensen Manufacturing company, on the west side of the Auditorium, is of particular interest to Topeka people, as it is the only creamery supply house in Kansas. Their line of special creamery apparatus was patented by Mr. A. Jensen, of Topeka, and is all manufactured in their plant at 523 Jackson street. They have been in business less than two years, but by hustling and judicious advertising they have built up a splendid business. They now have agents for their goods in Chicago, St. Paul, Cedar Rapids, Omaha and San Francisco.

The four highest scores in the butter contest just closed at the state dairy meeting were made by butter makers using Jensen machinery exclusively. The business is under the general management of W. G. Dickie, who will be pleased to show and explain the workings of any of their goods to the public.
